1 Introduction

This brochure gives information on the criteria, deadlines and procedures of the Netherlands Fellowship Programmes (NFP).

At the moment the application and selection procedures of the Netherlands Fellowship Programmes are undergoing some major changes. The current procedures will be phased out. As a result, during the phase-out period two sets of application and selection procedures will co-exist and consequently this brochure has two parts:

Part 1 describes the application and selection procedures and the courses, programmes and activities for which these are valid. The short courses under part 1 have a fellowship application deadline (embassy deadline) of 1 October 2010 or 1 December 2010. The master's degree programmes under part 1 have a fellowship application deadline (embassy deadline) of 1 October 2010.

Part 2 describes the application and selection procedures and the courses, programmes and activities for which these are valid. The short courses under part 2 have a fellowship application deadline of 1 February 2011, 1 May 2011 or 1 October 2011. The master's degree programmes under part 2 have a fellowship application deadline of 1 February 2011 or 1 May 2011.

Candidates who wish to apply for an NFP fellowship are advised to read all information carefully and take good notice of the criteria, deadlines and procedures. Please check our website www.nuffic.nl/nfp for the most current information.

1.1 General

The Netherlands Fellowship Programmes (NFP) are fellowship programmes initiated and fully funded by the Dutch Ministry of Foreign Affairs under the budget for Development Cooperation.

Aim NFP

The overall aim of the NFP is to help alleviate qualitative and quantitative shortages of skilled manpower within a wide range of governmental, private and non-governmental organizations. This by offering fellowships to mid-career professionals to improve the capacity of their employing organizations. The need for training has to be evident within the context of an organization. This implicates that applicants have to be nominated by their employers.

Applications without employer support are considered not eligible.

Target group

The NFP is targeted at mid-career professionals who are nationals of and working and living in one of the 60 NFP countries (see annex 4 for an overview). Candidates from Sub-Saharan Africa, women and members of priority groups and/or marginalized regions are specifically invited to apply for an NFP fellowship. This because 50% of the available fellowships will be awarded to females and 50% of the available budget will be awarded to candidates from Sub-Saharan Africa. Beside this, candidates from priority groups and/or marginalized regions (to be defined by the embassies) are explicitly invited to apply.

Country-specific criteria

Next to the general eligibility criteria an embassy or consulate may develop its own country-specific criteria. These reflect the preferences of the embassy or consulate for certain applications. These criteria can be of influence on the selection process. For these reasons, candidates are advised to check at the embassy if country-specific criteria apply.

NFP sub-programmes

The NFP offers the following options:

Individual fellowships for:

- short courses;
- master's degree programmes;
- PhD studies.

Subsidies for NFP alumni activities:

- Refresher courses;
- NAA start-up grants;
- Co-financing of NFP alumni activities.

For each of the sub-programmes a separate section in this brochure provides information about eligibility, application and selection procedures and deadlines.

Gender policy

The Dutch policy regarding development cooperation gives specific importance to gender and sexual & reproductive health and rights. The NFP gives attention to this gender policy by highlighting the extent to which gender is part of the courses and programmes on the NFP Course List. There are four categories:

1. The subject of the programme is gender-oriented (e.g. gender in the programme title);
2. The programme contains several compulsory modules dealing with gender dimensions;
3. Gender-oriented modules are available, but not compulsory. The programme content is not explicitly gender-oriented and no attention is paid to gender;
4. The subject of the programme is not gender-oriented. It is not possible to include gender-oriented modules.

The fellowship

An NFP fellowship is intended to supplement the salary that the fellowship holder should continue to receive (at least partially) during the study period. The allowance is considered to be a contribution towards the cost of living for one person, whether in the Netherlands or in another country. It should be noted that NFP allowances are not sufficient to support family members, either in the home country or in the Netherlands.

The fellowship can cover the costs of tuition fees, visas, travel, insurance and thesis research, as specified in the NFP booklet 'Rules and regulations for fellowship holders'. This booklet can be downloaded at www.nuffic.nl/nfp. Different conditions may apply to e-learning courses or e-learning programmes. These conditions are also listed in the Rules and Regulations booklet.

An NFP fellowship is granted for the duration of the programme. Whilst the individual candidates are selected for a fellowship, the grants are awarded to the Dutch higher education institutions to enable the fellowship holders to pursue the chosen sub-programme.

There are restrictions to the total number of fellowships candidates can receive. Candidates are not eligible for a fellowship if a candidate applying for:

- an NFP master's degree fellowship has already received an NFP fellowship for a master's degree;
- an NFP PhD fellowship has already received an NFP-PhD fellowship;
- an NFP SC fellowship has already received two NFP SC fellowships or has, a year prior to the application already received an NFP SC fellowship.

In addition, a candidate employed by one of the following organizations is not eligible:

- multinationals;
- UN-organizations;
- World Bank;
- IMF;
- a bilateral or multilateral donor organization;
- a large, national, commercial organization.

Regional programmes and courses

The NFP Course List also contains master's degree programmes and short courses that take place, either fully or partly, in one of the NFP countries, for example joint or double degree programmes. In these cases, the Dutch institution and its partner institution in the NFP country jointly deliver the programme. These programmes and courses are open to all candidates, as long as the programme/course is relevant to the candidate's employing organization and country.

1.2 Parties involved

Ministry of Foreign Affairs

The Ministry of Foreign Affairs fully funds the Netherlands Fellowship Programmes under the development cooperation budget.

Netherlands embassies and consulates

The Netherlands embassies and consulates assess all applications for fellowships for master's degree programmes, short courses and PhD studies and can formulate specific recommendations for further processing. They apply the general eligibility criteria. In addition, they may define a policy with country-specific criteria appropriate to the local situation.

Nuffic

Nuffic is the Netherlands organization for international cooperation in higher education¹. As an independent, non-profit organization based in The Hague, the Netherlands, Nuffic supports internationalization in higher education, research and professional education in the Netherlands and abroad, and helps to improve access to higher education worldwide.

The NFP programmes are managed and administered by Nuffic. Nuffic guides the candidate selection process for fellowships for master's degree programmes, short courses and PhD programmes. Nuffic drafts the lists of programmes and courses for which NFP fellowships can be used. Nuffic also selects candidates for PhD fellowships and evaluates proposals for refresher courses.

Dutch institutions

The Dutch institutions involved in the NFP are higher education institutions or other organizations in the Netherlands specializing in transferring knowledge and skills at a post-secondary level. The master's degree programmes and short courses listed in this brochure and the PhD study programmes are all offered by Dutch institutions. These have been assessed on their capacity to receive and teach students or professionals from various backgrounds. The institutions assess whether applicants are academically qualified to take part in a particular programme, course or training. They administer the NFP fellowships for all four sub-programmes. They also arrange the logistics and provide guidance for fellowship holders. For all matters concerning their fellowship the fellowship holders must contact the relevant Dutch institution.

1.3 More information

Up-to-date information can be found at www.nuffic.nl/nfp.

In some countries applications have to be submitted to the Netherlands embassies through a local government organization. Therefore, Nuffic strongly advises candidates to contact the embassy or consulate in their own country before they start the NFP application procedure.

A list of available websites of Netherlands embassies can be found in annex 2.

1. See www.nuffic.nl for detailed information about Nuffic and its mission, tasks and activities.

Part 1.

The application and selection procedures of the Netherlands Fellowship Programmes are undergoing some major changes. This part of the brochure contains information about the NFP sub-programmes (master's degree programmes, short courses and PhD) and lists the master's degree programmes and short courses to which the current procedures apply. The master's degree programmes have a fellowship application deadline (embassy deadline) of 1 October 2010 and the short courses a fellowship application deadline (embassy deadline) of 1 October 2010 or 1 December 2010.

The current procedures will be phased out. For information about programmes and courses with a fellowship application deadline of 1 Februari 2011, 1 May 2011 or 1 October 2011 and the corresponding procedures please refer to sections 5, 6, 7 and 8 of this brochure.

2 Fellowships for PhD studies

PhD degrees can be pursued at 21 Dutch universities and institutes for international education. A list of these universities and institutes, together with their addresses and websites, can be found at the end of this section.

The maximum duration of a PhD fellowship is four years. The maximum NFP budget available for a PhD study is € 85,000. This amount is intended as a contribution towards the cost of living and to cover the costs of visas, travel, insurance and so on, as specified in the NFP booklet 'Rules and regulations for fellowship holders'. This booklet can be downloaded at www.nuffic.nl/nfp. PhD students are allowed to seek alternative sources of funding.

2.1 Eligibility

A candidate applying for an NFP fellowship for a PhD degree programme must:

- be a mid-career professional with at least three years' work experience;
- be a national of, and working and living in one of the developing countries on the NFP country list valid at the time of application (see annex 4);
- be nominated by his or her employer, who pledges to continue paying the candidate's salary and guarantees the candidate will be able to return to the same or an equivalent position after the termination of the fellowship period²;
- submit an admission letter by the Board of Deans or any other decision making board or committee of the Dutch educational institution stating that the candidate has been unconditionally admitted to a Dutch institution as a PhD student. This means that the applicant must have met all the academic requirements set by the Dutch university or institute (see 2.2);
- not already have received an NFP PhD fellowship;
- not be employed by:
 - multinationals;
 - UN-organizations;
 - World Bank;
 - IMF;
 - a bilateral or multilateral donor organization;
 - a large, national, commercial organization;
- offer evidence that he or she is sufficiently skilled in speaking and writing in the language of communication during the PhD which may be English, French or Spanish. If this is English, candidates who have received their tertiary education in any language other than English must provide evidence in the form of a score in an internationally recognized test, such as IELTS (a score of at least 6.0) or TOEFL (a score of at least 550 points on the paper-based test or 213 points on the computer-based test or 79 on the internet-based test). An exception to this rule is made for candidates who have received their tertiary education in English, and for candidates who have previously attended a course or programme at a Dutch educational institution in this language, but no longer than two years ago;
- offer proof that the PhD will be pursued according to a 'sandwich' or 'picnic' model, which means that a large portion of the PhD research will take place in the candidate's home country;

- have completed and submitted an NFP PhD Study application form including all the required documentation before the fellowship application deadline;
- be employed in an area to which the PhD study will make a relevant contribution;
- have a clear-cut, functional relationship with a relevant organization and be in a position to introduce the newly acquired skills and knowledge into that organization;
- be available full-time to pursue the PhD without interruption, and be physically and mentally able to take part in the entire programme;
- endorse the objective and the aim of the NFP. The aim of the NFP cannot be reached if the fellowship holder does not return to his or her own country. Nuffic would like to urge fellowship holders to return to their home country upon finishing the course or programme to meet the NFP aim in the most effective way;
- comply with the country-specific criteria set by the Netherlands embassy (for more information please contact the Netherlands embassy or consulate).

2.2 Fellowship application procedure

As stated above, to be eligible for an NFP fellowship, candidates need to be admitted as a PhD student by one of the Dutch institutions mentioned under section 2.4.

Obtaining admission as a PhD student

Applicants first apply for admission directly to the Dutch institution of their choice. Applications should always be directed to the Dutch institution. Senior academic staff or a specific PhD committee decides if an applicant will be accepted. Usually, the assessment is based on the research proposal submitted by the applicant.

The Dutch institution assesses the application and decides whether or not to admit the applicant as a PhD student. Candidates will receive a letter informing them if they have been admitted. Nuffic has no part in the academic application process. Admission must be unconditional in terms of the candidate's education and language proficiency. Admission may be granted conditionally, subject to the candidate finding suitable funding for the study.

Candidates are strongly advised to apply as early as possible for admission to the Dutch institution to allow these institutions enough time to process all the applications for admission in time.

Academic application deadline

The academic application process for a PhD study is an individual track. Candidates who wish to be admitted as a PhD student have to check with the Dutch institution if an academic application deadline applies.

Applying for an NFP fellowship

A candidate can apply for a PhD fellowship only after a research proposal has been agreed between the candidate and the Dutch institution.

After receiving their letter of admission, candidates can apply for an NFP fellowship by submitting a completed NFP PhD fellowship application form to the Netherlands embassy or consulate in their own country, accompanied by the necessary documentation. The application should be submitted well before the deadline for applications set by the embassy or consulate (see annex 3). The application form can be downloaded at www.nuffic.nl/nfp. The form can also be obtained from the Netherlands embassy or consulate. Some embassies require applications to be submitted in duplicate. In some countries applications have to be submitted to the embassies through local governmental organizations. Candidates are advised to check any local regulations with the Netherlands embassy in their country.

2. Partial payment of salary may sometimes be allowed as an exception to the rule. It is up to the Netherlands embassy to decide if an agreement between the employer and the candidate about partial continuation of payment of salary is acceptable. It should be noted, however, that the NFP allowances are not sufficient to support family members, either in the home country or in the Netherlands.

Candidates should NOT send their fellowship application forms directly to Nuffic or to the Dutch institution, but forward them to the Netherlands embassy or consulate in their own country.

Candidates can only apply for a fellowship for one PhD study per fellowship application deadline. Being admitted to more than one PhD study with the same fellowship application deadline means that candidates will have to choose one study before applying for a fellowship. If a candidate submits more than one application per fellowship deadline for a study in the same application deadline the last received application will be regarded as valid. Excess applications will be regarded as not received.

What does an NFP PhD fellowship application consist of?

- a completed NFP PhD fellowship application form;
- an original letter from the host institution in the Netherlands stating that the candidate has been accepted to enrol as a PhD student;
- If the language of communication during the PhD is English: the official result of an English language test (TOEFL or IELTS). This requirement does not apply to:
 - candidates whose native language is English;
 - candidates who have received their tertiary education in English;
 - candidates who have previously successfully completed an English-taught course or programme at a Dutch educational institution, within the last two years.
- A letter from the candidate's employer endorsing the candidate's study plans and guaranteeing that while the candidate is absent the salary will continue to be paid and his/her job will be held;
- A copy of a valid passport or other official identity document;
- Certified copies of educational records (if requested by the embassy or consulate);
- One current photo (if requested by the embassy or consulate);
- A copy of the birth certificate (if requested by the embassy or consulate).

Fellowship application deadline

This deadline indicates the latest date that the embassy or consulate will accept applications for an NFP fellowship.

PhD applications have the following application deadlines for research projects that start between 1 January 2011 and 31 August 2012:

- 1 October 2010
- 1 February 2011
- 1 October 2011

The fellowship application deadline of 1 October 2010 follows the current NFP application and selection procedures.

The fellowship application deadline of 1 February 2011 and 1 October 2011 will fall under the new application and selection procedures. Please consult section 5 of this brochure for more information.

Academic application deadline	Fellowship application deadline (embassy deadline)
To be checked with Dutch institution	1 October 2010

Fellowship applications received after the fellowship application deadline are not considered.

What happens after an application is submitted?

The embassy or consulate assesses the application against the eligibility criteria listed above and against the country specific policy. The embassy or consulate then forwards an application that meets all the eligibility criteria to Nuffic.

2.3 Selection procedure

First Nuffic selects the candidates who will receive PhD fellowships based on the relevance of the proposed research and the available funding for the candidate's employing organization and home country. Nuffic gives priority to applications which:

- propose that the research project be co-supervised by an institution in a developing country;
- have a proven link with other activities that are financed by the NFP or by other Dutch government-funded activities;
- are submitted by female candidates;
- are submitted by candidates from Sub-Saharan Africa.

Nuffic informs the candidates who are not eligible or not selected, as well as the Netherlands embassy and the Dutch institution of its decision. The Dutch Institution informs all selected candidates about the outcome through the Netherlands embassy in their home country.

Finally, Nuffic awards the grant covering the fellowship holders' costs, including the tuition fees to the Dutch institution. The Dutch institutions make the logistical arrangements and pay each fellowship holder a monthly allowance for the duration of the PhD study. They also administer the fellowships and give guidance to the fellowship holders.

3 Fellowships for short courses

Fellowship application deadlines 1 October 2010 and 1 December 2010

NFP fellowships for short courses can be used for a number of selected courses and are offered by education institutions in the Netherlands. The institutions provide professional training at post-secondary level in several fields of study. The courses lead to a Dutch certificate or a diploma and their duration varies from two weeks to twelve months.

The list of selected short courses can be found at the end of this section on page 14. Please note that this is a provisional list and that information is subject to change. Please regularly check the Nuffic website for the latest information: www.nuffic.nl/nfp.

3.1 Eligibility

A candidate applying for an NFP fellowship for a short course must:

- be a mid-career professional with at least three years' work experience;
- be a national of, and working and living in one of the developing countries on the NFP country list valid at the time of application (see annex 4);
- be nominated by his or her employer, who pledges to continue paying the candidate's salary and guarantees the candidate will be able to return to the same or an equivalent position at the end of the fellowship period³;
- have been unconditionally admitted by a Dutch institution to one of the short courses on the course list 2011-2012. This means that the applicant must have met all the requirements set by the Dutch institution (see 3.2);
- not have received more than two NFP short course fellowships;
- not have received an NFP short course fellowship in the year prior to the fellowship application;
- not be employed by:
 - multinationals;
 - UN-organizations;
 - World Bank;
 - IMF;
 - a bilateral or multilateral donor organization;
 - a large, national, commercial organization;
- offer evidence that he or she is sufficiently skilled in speaking and writing in the language of instruction during the short course which may be English, French or Spanish. If this is English, candidates who have received their tertiary education in any language other than English must provide evidence in the form of a score in an internationally recognized test, such as IELTS (a score of at least 6.0) or TOEFL (a score of at least 550 points on the paper-based test or 213 points on the computer-based test or 79 on the internet-based test). An exception to this rule is made for candidates who have received their tertiary education in English, and for candidates who have previously attended a course or programme at a Dutch educational institution in this language, but no longer than two years ago;
- have completed and submitted an NFP short course application form including all the required documentation before the fellowship application deadline;

3. Partial payment of salary may sometimes be allowed as an exception to the rule. It is up to the Netherlands embassy to decide if an agreement between the employer and the candidate about partial continuation of payment of salary is acceptable. It should be noted, however, that the NFP allowances are not sufficient to support family members, either in the home country or in the Netherlands.

- be employed in an area to which the study will make a relevant contribution;
- have a clear-cut, functional relationship with a relevant organization and be in a position to introduce the newly acquired skills and knowledge into that organization;
- be available for the entire period of the course and be physically and mentally able to take part in the entire course;
- endorse the objective and the aim of the NFP. The aim of the NFP cannot be reached if the fellowship holder does not return to his or her own country. Nuffic would like to urge fellowship holders to return to their home country upon finishing the course or programme to meet the NFP aim in the most effective way;
- comply with the country-specific criteria set by the Netherlands embassy (for more information please contact the Netherlands embassy or consulate).

3.2 Fellowship application procedure

As stated above, to be eligible for an NFP fellowship, candidates need to be admitted by a Dutch institute to the short course for which they would like an NFP fellowship.

Obtaining academic admission to a short course

Applicants first apply for admission directly to the Dutch institution that offers the short course of their choice.

The Dutch institution assesses the application and decides whether or not to admit the applicant to the short course. Candidates will receive a letter from the institution informing them if they have been admitted. Nuffic has no part in the academic application process. Admission must be unconditional in terms of the candidate's education and language proficiency. Admission may be granted conditionally, subject to the candidate finding suitable funding for the course.

Candidates are strongly advised to apply as early as possible for admission to the Dutch institution to allow these institutions enough time to process all the applications for admission in time.

Academic application deadline

This indicates the latest date that the Dutch institution will accept applications from candidates who also wish to apply for an NFP fellowship.

The academic application deadlines for admission to short courses vary per course and can change throughout the year. For this reason, candidates are advised to contact the Dutch institution directly for up-to-date information. Occasionally, the Dutch institution's deadline for applying for admission to a course is later than the NFP deadline for fellowship applications. Nevertheless, to be eligible for an NFP fellowship, candidates need to be admitted to the short course for which they would like to receive an NFP fellowship. On the short courses overview (section 3.4), the academic application deadline is listed for each entry.

Applying for an NFP fellowship

After receiving their admission letter, candidates can apply for an NFP fellowship by submitting a completed NFP short course application form to the Netherlands embassy or consulate in their own country, accompanied by the necessary documentation. The application should be submitted well before the application deadline set by the embassy or consulate (see annex 3). The application form can be downloaded at www.nuffic.nl/nfp. The form can also be obtained from the Netherlands embassy or consulate. Some embassies require applications to be submitted in duplicate. In some countries applications have to be submitted to the embassies through local governmental organizations. Candidates are advised to check any local regulations with the Netherlands embassy in their country.

Candidates should NOT send their fellowship application forms directly to Nuffic or to the Dutch institution, but forward them to the Netherlands embassy or consulate in their own country.

Candidates can only apply for a fellowship for one course per fellowship application deadline. Being admitted to more than one course with the same fellowship application deadline means that candidates will have to choose one course before applying for a fellowship. If a candidate submits more than one application per fellowship deadline for a course in the same application deadline the last received application will be regarded as valid. Excess applications will be regarded as not received.

What does an NFP short course fellowship application consist of?

- a completed NFP short course fellowship application form;
- an original letter from the host institution in the Netherlands stating that the candidate has been admitted to an eligible short course;
- If the language of communication during the course is English: the official result of an English language test (TOEFL or IELTS). This requirement does not apply to:
 - candidates whose native language is English;
 - candidates who have received their tertiary education in English;
 - candidates who have previously successfully completed an English-taught course or programme at a Dutch educational institution, within the last two years.
- a letter from the candidate's employer endorsing the candidate's study plans and guaranteeing that while the candidate is absent the salary will continue to be paid and that his/her job will be held;
- a copy of a valid passport or other official identity document;
- certified copies of educational records (if requested by the embassy or consulate);
- one current photo (if requested by the embassy or consulate);
- a copy of the birth certificate (if requested by the embassy or consulate).

Fellowship application deadline

This indicates the latest date that the Netherlands embassy or consulate will accept applications for an NFP fellowship.

The short courses listed on the NFP Course List 2011-2012 part 1 have two fellowship application deadlines (embassy deadline).

Academic application deadline	Fellowship application deadline (embassy deadline)
See section 3.4	1 October 2010 1 December 2010

Section 3.4 consists of an overview with academic application deadlines and fellowship application deadlines of short courses listed on the NFP Course List 2011-2012 part 1.

Fellowship applications received after the fellowship application deadline are not considered.

What happens after an application is submitted?

The embassy or consulate assesses each application against the eligibility criteria listed above and against the country specific criteria. The embassies and consulates then forward the fellowship applications that meet all the criteria to Nuffic.

3.3 Selection procedure

First Nuffic decides how many fellowships will be available for each course. The allocation of fellowships to the various courses is based on the number of eligible fellowship applications for each course and on the available funding.

The Dutch institutions then select the candidates who will receive a fellowship. They will notify all candidates directly of their selection. After Nuffic's approval, the Dutch institutions will apply for a grant.

Finally, Nuffic awards the grant covering the fellowship holders' costs, including the tuition fees, to the Dutch institution. The Dutch institutions make the logistical arrangements and pay each fellowship holder a monthly allowance for the duration of the short course. They also administer the fellowships and provide guidance to the fellowship holders.

 Academic application deadlines: 1 November 2010
 Fellowship application deadline: 1 December 2010
 Educational requirements: BSc degree from a recognized university in Earth Sciences, Environmental sciences, engineering, planning, or other relevant discipline.
 Other requirements: Internet access (min 2 hrs per day). Attitude for independent study.
 Gender category: 4. Subject is not gender-oriented

n Distributed Data Access Technologies for Natural Resources Monitoring

Leading to: Certificate
 Course duration: 3 Weeks
 Next course begins: 6 June 2011
 Academic application deadlines: 1 November 2010
 Fellowship application deadline: 1 December 2010
 Educational requirements: Problem structuring, cognitive mapping, spatial data analysis tools and techniques, simulation and modelling, evaluation techniques.
 Professional requirements: Knowledge of GIS and spatial data analysis (tools and techniques).
 Gender category: 4. Subject is not gender-oriented

n Earth Observation and Quantification of Water Cycle Components

Leading to: Certificate
 Course duration: 12 Weeks
 Next course begins: 3 January 2011
 Academic application deadlines: 1 September 2010
 Fellowship application deadline: 1 October 2010

Educational requirements: Good mathematical basis. Knowledge on physics in highly appreciated. Basic knowledge in hydrological sciences and EO and GIS data processing.

Gender category: 4. Subject is not gender-oriented

n Large-Scale Process Modelling and Data Assimilation

Leading to: Certificate
 Course duration: 3 Weeks
 Next course begins: 27 June 2011
 Academic application deadlines: 1 November 2010
 Fellowship application deadline: 1 December 2010
 Educational requirements: Basic math, deep understanding of the hydrological cycle and its processes/hydrologic optics and experience in quantitative remote sensing.
 Professional requirements: Basic understanding of mathematical analysis/statistics, of quantitative Earth Observation & modelling, programming skills & image processing skills.
 Gender category: 4. Subject is not gender-oriented

n Remote Sensing and GIS for Natural Hazard Assessment

Leading to: Certificate
 Course duration: 9 Weeks
 Next course begins: 3 January 2011

4 Fellowships for master's degree programmes

Fellowship application deadlines 1 October 2010

NFP fellowships can be obtained for a selected number of master's degree programmes. The Dutch higher education institutions offer many international master's degree programmes, covering almost every field of study. Candidates can receive a postgraduate education and earn one of the following Dutch degrees: Master of Arts, Master of Science or a Professional Master's degree. A Master of Arts or a Master of Science degree is an academic degree, usually awarded by traditional (research-oriented) universities on completion of a postgraduate research-oriented course of one to two years in duration. Professional master's degrees are awarded by different types of higher education institutions that offer more professionally-oriented programmes. Professional master's degrees are usually of shorter duration than a research-oriented master's degree programme. The duration of the programmes varies between 9 and 24 months.

The list of selected master's degree programmes can be found at the end of this section on page 35.

Please note that this is a provisional list and that information is subject to change. Please regularly check the Nuffic website for the latest information: www.nuffic.nl/nfp.

4.1 Eligibility

A candidate applying for an NFP fellowship for a master's degree programme must:

- be a mid-career professional with at least three years' work experience;
- be a national of, and working and living in one of the developing countries on the NFP country list valid at the time of application (see annex 4);
- be nominated by his or her employer, who pledges to continue paying the candidate's salary and guarantees the candidate will be able to return to the same or an equivalent position at the end of the fellowship period⁴;
- have been unconditionally admitted by a Dutch institution to one of the master's degree programmes on the course list 2011-2012. This means that the applicant must have met all the requirements set by the Dutch institution (see 4.2);
- not already have received an NFP master's degree fellowship;
- not be employed by:
 - multinationals;
 - UN-organizations;
 - World Bank;
 - IMF;
 - a bilateral or multilateral donor organization;
 - a large, national, commercial organization.
- offer evidence that he or she is sufficiently skilled in speaking and writing in the language of instruction during the master's degree programme which may be English, French or Spanish. If this is English, candidates who have received their tertiary education in any language other than English must provide evidence in the form of a score in an internationally recognized test, such as IELTS (a score of at least 6.0) or TOEFL (a score of at least 550 points on the paper-based test or 213 points on the computer-based test or 79 on the internet-based test). An exception to this rule is made for candidates who have received their tertiary education in English, and for candidates who have previously attended a course or programme at a Dutch educational institution in this language, but no longer than two years ago;

4. Partial payment of salary may sometimes be allowed as an exception to the rule. It is up to the Netherlands embassy to decide if an agreement between the employer and the candidate about partial continuation of payment of salary is acceptable. It should be noted, however, that the NFP allowances are not sufficient to support family members, either in the home country or in the Netherlands.

- have completed and submitted an NFP master's degree programme application form including all the required documentation before the fellowship application deadline;
- be employed in an area to which the study will make a relevant contribution;
- have a clear-cut, functional relationship with a relevant organization and be in a position to introduce the newly acquired skills and knowledge into that organization;
- be available for the entire period of the programme and be physically and mentally able to take part in the entire programme;
- endorse the objective and the aim of the NFP. The aim of the NFP cannot be reached if the fellowship holder does not return to his or her own country. Nuffic would like to urge fellowship holders to return to their home country upon finishing the course or programme to meet the NFP aim in the most effective way;
- comply with the country-specific criteria set by the Netherlands embassy (for more information please contact the Netherlands embassy or consulate).

4.2 Fellowship application procedure

As stated above, to be eligible for an NFP fellowship, candidates need to be admitted by a Dutch institution to the master's degree programme for which they would like an NFP fellowship.

Obtaining academic admission to a master's degree programme

Applicants first apply for admission directly to the Dutch institution that offers the master's degree programme of their choice.

The Dutch institution assesses the application and decides whether or not to admit the applicant to the programme. Candidates will receive a letter from the institution informing them if they have been admitted. Nuffic has no part in the academic application process. Admission must be unconditional in terms of the candidate's education and language proficiency. Admission may be granted conditionally, subject to the candidate finding suitable funding for the programme.

Candidates are strongly advised to apply as early as possible for admission to the Dutch institution to allow these institutions enough time to process all the applications for admission in time.

Academic application deadline

This indicates the latest date that the Dutch institution will accept applications from candidates who also wish to apply for an NFP fellowship.

The academic application deadlines for admission to master's degree programmes vary per programme and can change throughout the year. For this reason, candidates are advised to contact the Dutch institution directly for up-to-date information. Occasionally, the Dutch institution's deadline for applying for admission to a programme is later than the NFP deadline for fellowship applications. Nevertheless, to be eligible for an NFP fellowship, candidates need to be admitted to the master's degree programme for which they would like an NFP fellowship. On the master's degree programmes overview (section 4.4), the academic application deadline is listed for each entry.

Applying for an NFP fellowship

After receiving their letter of admission, candidates can apply for an NFP fellowship by submitting a completed NFP master's degree application form to the Netherlands embassy or consulate in their own country, accompanied by the necessary documentation. The application should be submitted well before the deadline for applications set by the embassy or consulate (see annex 3). The application form can be downloaded at www.nuffic.nl/nfp. The form can also be obtained from the Netherlands embassy or consulate. Some embassies require applications to be submitted in duplicate. In some countries applications have to be submitted to the embassies through local governmental organizations. Candidates are advised to check any local regulations with the Netherlands embassy in their country.

Candidates should NOT send their fellowship application forms directly to Nuffic or to the Dutch institution, but forward them to the Netherlands embassy or consulate in their own country.

Candidates can only apply for a fellowship for one master's degree programme per fellowship application deadline. Being admitted to more than one programme with the same fellowship application deadline means that candidates will have to choose one programme before applying for a fellowship. If a candidate submits more than one application per fellowship deadline for a master's degree programme in the same application deadline the last received application will be regarded as valid. Excess applications will be regarded as not received.

What does an NFP master's degree programme fellowship application consist of?

- a completed NFP master's degree programme fellowship application form;
- an original letter from the host institution in the Netherlands stating that the candidate has been admitted to an eligible master's degree programme;
- If the language of communication during the programme is English: the official result of an English language test (TOEFL or IELTS). This requirement does not apply to:
 - candidates whose native language is English;
 - candidates who have received their tertiary education in English;
 - candidates who have previously successfully completed an English-taught course or programme at a Dutch educational institution, within the last two years.
- a letter from the candidate's employer endorsing the candidates study plans and guaranteeing that while the candidate is absent the salary will continue to be paid and his/her job will be held;
- a copy of a valid passport or other official identity document;
- certified copies of educational records (if requested by the embassy or consulate);
- one current photo (if requested by the embassy or consulate);
- a copy of the birth certificate (if requested by the embassy or consulate).

Fellowship application deadline

This indicates the latest date that the Netherlands embassy or consulate will accept applications for an NFP fellowship.

The master's degree programmes listed on the NFP Course List 2011-2012 part 1 have one fellowship application deadline (embassy deadline):

Academic application deadline	Fellowship application deadline (embassy deadline)
See section 4.4	1 October 2010

Section 4.4 consists of an overview with academic application deadlines and fellowship application deadlines of the master's degree programmes on the NFP Course List 2011-2012 part 1.

Fellowship applications received after the fellowship application deadline are not considered.

What happens after an application is submitted?

The embassy or consulate assesses each application against the eligibility criteria listed above and against the country specific criteria. The embassies and consulates then forward the fellowship applications that meet the criteria to Nuffic.

4.3 Selection procedure

First, Nuffic decides how many fellowships will be available for each programme. The allocation of fellowships to the various programmes is based on the number of eligible fellowship applications for each programme and on the available funding.

The Dutch institutions then select the candidates who will receive a fellowship. They will notify all candidates directly of their selection. After Nuffic's approval, the Dutch institutions will apply for a grant.

Finally, Nuffic awards the grant covering the fellowship holders' costs, including the tuition fees, to the Dutch institution. The Dutch institutions make the logistical arrangements and pay each fellowship holder a monthly allowance for the duration of the master's degree programme. They also administer the fellowships and provide guidance to the fellowship holders.

The master's degree programmes have a fellowship application deadline of 1 February 2011 or 1 May 2011. The short courses have a fellowship application deadline of 1 February 2011, 1 May 2011 or 1 October 2011.

The current procedures will be phased out. For information about programmes and courses with fellowship application deadlines (embassy deadlines) 1 October 2010 or 1 December 2010 and the corresponding procedures please refer to section 2, 3, 4 of this brochure.

5 Fellowships for PhD studies

PhD degrees can be pursued at 21 Dutch universities and institutes for international education. A list of these universities and institutes, together with their addresses and websites, is included at the end of this section.

The maximum duration of a PhD fellowship is four years. The maximum NFP budget available for a PhD study is € 85,000. This amount is intended as a contribution towards the cost of living and to cover the costs of visas, travel, insurance, and so on, as specified in the NFP booklet 'Rules and regulations for fellowship holders'. This booklet can be downloaded at www.nuffic.nl/nfp. PhD students are allowed to seek alternative sources of funding.

5.1 Eligibility

A candidate applying for an NFP fellowship for a PhD degree programme must:

- be a mid-career professional with at least three years' work experience;
- be a national of, and working and living in one of the developing countries on the NFP country list valid at the time of application (see annex 4);
- be nominated by his or her employer, who pledges to continue paying the candidate's salary and guarantees the candidate will be able to return to an equivalent position after the termination of the fellowship period⁵;
- submit an admission letter by the Board of Deans or any other decision making board or committee of the Dutch educational institution stating that the candidate has been unconditionally admitted to a Dutch institution as a PhD student. This means that the applicant must have met all the academic requirements set by the Dutch university or institute (see 5.2);
- not already have received an NFP PhD fellowship;
- not be employed by:
 - multinationals;
 - UN-organizations;
 - World Bank;
 - IMF;
 - a bilateral or multilateral donor organization;
 - a large, national, commercial organization.
- offer proof that the PhD will be pursued according to a 'sandwich' or 'picnic' model, which means that a large portion of the PhD research will take place in the candidate's home country;
- have completed and submitted an NFP PhD study application with all the required documentation before the NFP fellowship application deadline;
- be employed in an area to which the study will make a relevant contribution;
- have a clear-cut, functional relationship with a relevant organization and be in a position to introduce the newly acquired skills and knowledge into that organization;
- be available full-time to pursue the PhD without interruption, and be physically and mentally able to take part in the entire programme;
- endorse the objective and the aim of the NFP. The aim of the NFP cannot be reached if the fellowship holder does not return to his or her own country. Nuffic would like to urge fellowship holders to return to their home country upon finishing the course or programme to meet the NFP aim in the most effective way.

5.2 Fellowship application procedure

As stated above, to be eligible for an NFP fellowship, candidates need to be admitted as a PhD student by one of the Dutch institutions mentioned under section 5.4.

Obtaining admission as a PhD student

Applicants first apply for admission directly to the Dutch institution of their choice. Applications should always be directed to the Dutch institution. Senior academic staff or a specific PhD committee decides if an applicant will be accepted. Usually, the assessment is based on the research proposal submitted by the applicant.

The Dutch institution assesses the application and decides whether or not to admit the applicant as a PhD student. Candidates will receive a letter informing them if they have been admitted. Nuffic has no part in the academic application process. Admission must be unconditional in terms of the candidate's education and language proficiency. Admission may be granted conditionally, subject to the candidate finding suitable funding for the study.

Candidates are strongly advised to apply as early as possible for admission to the Dutch institution because these institutions need enough time to process all the applications for admission in time.

Academic application deadline

The academic application process for a PhD study is an individual track. Candidates who wish to be admitted as a PhD student have to check with the Dutch institution if an academic application deadline applies.

Applying for an NFP fellowship

A candidate can apply for a PhD fellowship only after a research proposal has been agreed between the candidate and the Dutch institution.

Candidates may submit either a digital or a paper application. However, applicants are strongly encouraged to apply online.

Those who have very limited or no access to the internet can submit a paper application. However, submitting an application online has many advantages. Submitting an application online is much quicker and it is usually less expensive. In addition, candidates can check the status of their application in Scholarships Online (SOL).

Please also note that only one version should be submitted: either digital or paper. Submitting both will certainly delay the selection procedure.

Candidates can only apply for a fellowship for one PhD study per fellowship application deadline. Being admitted to more than one PhD study with the same fellowship application deadline means that candidates will have to choose one study before applying for a fellowship. If a candidate submits more than one application per fellowship deadline for a study in the same application deadline the last received application will be regarded as valid. If an online and a paper application are submitted, the online application will be regarded as valid. Excess applications will be regarded as not received.

5. Partial payment of salary may sometimes be allowed as an exception to the rule. It is up to the Netherlands embassy to decide if an agreement between the employer and the candidate about partial continuation of payment of salary is acceptable. It should be noted, however, that the NFP allowances are not sufficient to support family members, either in the home country or in the Netherlands.

What does an NFP PhD fellowship application consist of?

- either a digital application submitted online or a paper application form submitted directly to Nuffic;
- a letter from the candidate's employer endorsing the candidate's study plans and guaranteeing that while the candidate is absent the salary will continue to be paid and his/her job will be held;
- a copy of a valid passport or other official identity document;
- a Statement of Government Authority (if applicable).

Online fellowship application

Online applications have to be submitted through Scholarships Online (SOL). Through SOL candidates can apply for fellowships online and they can check the status of an application. Other parties such as the Dutch institutions, the embassies and consulates will use SOL to add information about an NFP fellowship application. The embassies and consulates will also use SOL to assess NFP fellowship applications.

SOL can be accessed through www.nuffic.nl/nfp. This page also contains more instructions about applying online.

Paper application

Paper application forms can be downloaded from the Nuffic website. Please note that in the new NFP procedure a complete application (including required documents) must be sent directly to Nuffic by regular mail and not forwarded to the Netherlands embassy or consulate. More instructions can be found on the Nuffic website.

Fellowship application deadline

Two fellowship application deadlines have been introduced for submitting PhD fellowship applications. Applications for PhD research projects starting in the academic year 2011-2012 must be submitted before the following fellowship application deadlines:

Academic application deadline	SOL open for online application	Fellowship application deadlines	Paper application deadline
Not applicable	1 November 2010	1 February 2011	1 January 2011
	1 February 2011	1 October 2011	1 September 2011

These deadlines follow the new NFP application and selection procedures. Please consult part 1 of this brochure for more information about PhD applications according to the current NFP application and selection procedures.

Fellowship applications received after the fellowship application deadline are not considered.

What happens after an application is submitted?

The Dutch institution will also indicate in Scholarships Online if the candidate has been admitted. Each application will be assessed against the eligibility criteria listed above and, if formulated, against the country-specific criteria.

Paper applications will also be assessed on whether the application was submitted before the deadline and if the institution where the applicant is admitted is on the list of eligible institutions.

5.3 Selection procedure

Nuffic selects the candidates who will receive PhD fellowships based on the relevance of the proposed research for the candidate's employing organization and home country. Nuffic gives priority to applications which:

- propose that the research project be co-supervised by an institution in a developing country;
- have a proven link with other activities that are financed by the NFP or other Dutch government-funded activities;
- are submitted by female candidates;
- are submitted by candidates from Sub-Saharan Africa.

Nuffic then formally informs these candidates about the outcome of the final selection through the Netherlands embassy in their home country.

Finally, Nuffic awards the grant to the Dutch institution to cover the fellowship holders' costs, including the tuition fees. The Dutch institutions will make the logistical arrangements and pay each fellowship holder a monthly allowance for the duration of the PhD study. They also administer the fellowships and give guidance to the fellowship holders

The selection procedure has very strict time frames. Provisionally selected candidates have to respond to the availability request within a very short period. Therefore, candidates who have submitted an application should carefully examine the time frame of the selection procedure. The time frames can be found on the Nuffic website.

6 Fellowships for NFP Alumni Activities

The NFP provides funds for refresher courses for NFP alumni, as well as start-up grants for Netherlands Alumni Associations (NAAs) and grants to co-finance activities organized by Netherlands Alumni Associations.

NFP Alumni Activities entail the following subsidies:

For NFP alumni:

- refresher courses.

For Netherlands Alumni Associations (NAAs):

- start-up subsidies;
- co-financing of activities organised by NAAs.

6.1 Refresher courses

The aim of refresher courses is to contribute to the institutional development of the employing organizations of NFP alumni and to increase the impact and prolong the effect of earlier NFP-funded training. The refresher course may be conducted by either the Dutch organization that provided the original training course or by a different Dutch institution qualified in the field of expertise concerned.

The proposed course should be in the same field of study as the original NFP-funded training.

The duration of a refresher course is normally two weeks. The maximum number of participants is 20. A refresher course can be attended by colleagues of NFP alumni, but only to a limited extent. They must be direct colleagues who work in the same organization or organizational unit of the NFP alumnus. One or two staff members of the partner institute in the NFP country concerned are also allowed to attend the course.

The course should take place in one of the countries on the NFP country list valid at the time of application (see annex 4).

6.2 Eligibility

Organizations in developing countries applying for subsidies for refresher courses must be situated in one of the countries on the NFP country list valid at the time of application (see annex 4).

Participants of refresher courses must:

- be mid-career professionals with at least three years' work experience;
- be nationals of, and working and living in one of the developing countries on the NFP country list valid at the time of application (see annex 4);
- be NFP alumni, having completed any NFP-funded training or education course at least two years prior to the planned starting date of the refresher course (see above);
- be employed in an area to which the refresher course will make a relevant contribution;
- have a clear-cut, functional relationship with a relevant organization and be in a position to introduce the newly acquired skills and knowledge into that organization;
- be available for the entire period of the course and be physically and mentally able to take part in the entire course.

6.3 Application and selection procedure

Proposals for refresher courses should be submitted directly to Nuffic.

Organizations in developing countries, NFP alumni or the Dutch organization that will provide the course may submit proposals for refresher courses.

The format to be used for writing a proposal for a refresher course can be downloaded from www.nuffic.nl/nfp and is also available from the Netherlands embassies and consulates.

Nuffic will select the refresher courses to be delivered in 2011 by assessing the requests against the eligibility criteria as well as technical criteria of the project.

In the selection process, preference will be given to proposals for courses which:

- will be jointly implemented by a Dutch institution and an institution or organization in the country or region concerned;
- guarantee that at least half of the participants will be female;
- have a clearly-demonstrated gender component;
- will take place in Sub-Saharan Africa.

Nuffic will inform the Dutch embassies and the NAAs about the outcome of the selection in December 2010 and award grants to the Dutch institutions accordingly.

Application deadline

Proposals for refresher courses to be held in 2011 should be submitted to Nuffic before 1 November 2010.

6.4 NAA start-up subsidy

A potential Netherlands Alumni Association in an NFP country can apply to the NFP for a start-up subsidy. Any funding made available is primarily to be used to create the necessary infrastructure and to guarantee the basic conditions needed for a successful start. The maximum amount of a start-up subsidy is € 3,000.

6.5 Eligibility

- Associations in one of the countries on the NFP country list valid at the time of application can apply for the start-up subsidy.
- An association needs at least 20 members to be able to apply for a start-up subsidy;
- An NAA should have members from various Dutch institutions. At least 60% of the members should be NFP alumni;
- Only NAAs that are officially registered in accordance with the local rules and regulations can apply for a grant.

6.6 Application and selection procedure

Applications must be submitted by the NAA's governing board, not by an individual.

Associations can apply for a start-up subsidy by presenting a completed application form to the Netherlands embassy or consulate in their own country, accompanied by the necessary documentation. The application form can be downloaded from www.nuffic.nl/nfp and is also available from the Netherlands embassy or consulate. Some embassies require applications to be submitted in duplicate.

Associations should NOT send their application forms directly to Nuffic, but forward them to the Netherlands embassy or consulate in their own country.

It should be noted that the total funding available for start-up subsidies is limited. This means that applications may be turned down even if they meet all the criteria.

Application deadline

There is no deadline for submission of applications for NAA start-up subsidies. Applications can be submitted throughout the year.

6.7 Co-financing of NFP alumni activities

A Netherlands Alumni Association in a country on the NFP country list valid at the time of application can apply for the co-financing of its activities. The maximum amount of a co-financing subsidy is € 5,000. At least 25% of the budget must come from other funds.

6.8 Eligibility

Co-financing requests must meet the following criteria:

- Only co-financing requests are considered, so other funds must be available;
- The activity must be an initiative of and for the benefit of NFP alumni;
- The activity must relate to the topic of a previously attended NFP course, to higher education in general or to the strengthening of a Netherlands Alumni Association (NAA). Requests for the co-financing of social events are not considered;
- At least 60% of the participants of the activity should be NFP alumni.

6.9 Application and selection procedure

The format for requesting co-financing for NFP alumni activities can be downloaded from www.nuffic.nl/nfp and is also available from the Dutch embassies and consulates. The application must be submitted to Nuffic at least three months before the start of the activity.

Requests must include:

- A: a description of the activity and the benefit it will have for the NFP alumni involved;
- B: a specification of the group of NFP alumni that will be reached by this activity (names and countries, if available);
- C: a detailed budget of the activity with a clear indication of which part will be financed by NFP and which parts will be covered by other funds.

It should be noted that the amount of funding available for the co-financing of NFP alumni activities is limited. This means that applications may be turned down even if they meet all the criteria.

Application deadline

There is no deadline for submission of applications for co-financing of NFP alumni activities. Applications can be submitted throughout the year.

7 Fellowships for short courses

Fellowship application deadlines 1 February 2011, 1 May 2011 and 1 October 2011

NFP fellowships for short courses can be used for a number of selected courses and are offered by education institutions in the Netherlands. The institutions provide professional training at post-secondary level in several fields of study. The courses lead to a Dutch certificate or a diploma and their duration varies from two weeks to twelve months.

The list of selected short courses can be found at the end of this section on page 50. Please note that this is a provisional list and that information is subject to change. Please regularly check the Nuffic website for the latest information: www.nuffic.nl/nfp.

7.1 Eligibility

A candidate applying for an NFP fellowship for a short course must:

- be a mid-career professional with at least three years' work experience;
- be a national of, and working and living in one of the developing countries on the NFP country list valid at the time of application (see annex 4);
- be nominated by their employer, who pledges to continue paying their salary and guarantees that they will be able to return to the same or an equivalent position at the end of the fellowship period⁶;
- have been unconditionally admitted by a Dutch institution to one of the short courses on the course list 2011-2012. This means that applicants must meet all the requirements set by the Dutch institution (see 7.2);
- not have received more than two NFP short course fellowships
- not have received an NFP short course fellowship in the year prior to the fellowship application.
- not be employed by:
 - multinationals;
 - UN-organizations;
 - World Bank;
 - IMF;
 - a bilateral or multilateral donor organization;
 - a large, national, commercial organization.
- have completed and submitted an NFP short course application form including all the required documentation before the NFP fellowship application deadline;
- be employed in an area to which the study will make a relevant contribution;
- have a clear-cut, functional relationship with a relevant organization and be in a position to introduce the newly acquired skills and knowledge into that organization;
- be available for the entire period of the course and be physically and mentally able to take part in the entire course;
- endorse the objective and the aim of the NFP. The aim of the NFP cannot be reached if the fellowship holder does not return to his or her own country. Nuffic would like to urge fellowship holders to return to their home country upon finishing the course or programme to meet the NFP aim in the most effective way.

7.2 Fellowship application procedure

As stated above, to be eligible for an NFP fellowship, candidates need to be admitted to the short course for which they would like an NFP fellowship.

Obtaining academic admission to a short course

Applicants first apply for admission directly to the Dutch institution that offers the short course of their choice.

The Dutch institution assesses the application and decides whether or not to admit the applicant to the short course. Candidates will receive a letter from the institution informing them if they have been admitted. Nuffic has no part in the academic application process. Admission must be unconditional in terms of the candidate's education and language proficiency. Admission may be granted conditionally, subject to the candidate finding suitable funding for the course.

Candidates are strongly advised to apply as early as possible for admission to a Dutch institution to allow these institutions enough time to process all the applications for admission in time.

Academic application deadline

This indicates the latest date that the Dutch institution will accept applications from candidates who also wish to apply for an NFP fellowship.

The academic application deadlines for admission to short courses vary per course and can change throughout the year. For this reason, candidates are advised to contact the Dutch institution directly for up-to-date information. Occasionally, the Dutch institution's deadline for applying for admission to a course is later than the NFP deadline for fellowship applications. Nevertheless, to be eligible for an NFP fellowship, candidates need to be admitted to the short course for which they would like to receive an NFP fellowship. On the short courses overview (section 7.4), the academic application deadline is listed for each entry.

Applying for an NFP fellowship

Candidates may submit either a digital or a paper application. However, candidates are strongly encouraged to apply online.

Those who have very limited or no access to the internet can submit a paper application. However, submitting an application online has many advantages. Submitting an application online is much quicker and it is usually less expensive. In addition, candidates can check the status of their application in Scholarships Online (SOL).

Please also note that only one version should be submitted: either digital or on paper. Submitting two versions will certainly delay the selection procedure.

Candidates can only apply for a fellowship for one short course per fellowship application deadline. Being admitted to more than one course with the same fellowship application deadline means that candidates will have to choose one course before applying for a

6. Partial payment of salary may sometimes be allowed as an exception to the rule. It is up to the Netherlands embassy to decide if an agreement between the employer and the candidate about partial continuation of payment of salary is acceptable. It should be noted, however, that the NFP allowances are not sufficient to support family members, either in the home country or in the Netherlands.

fellowship. If a candidate submits more than one application per fellowship deadline for a course in the same application deadline the last received application will be regarded as valid. If an online and a paper application are submitted, the online application will be regarded as valid. Excess applications will be regarded as not received.

What does an NFP short courses fellowship application consist of?

- either a digital application submitted online or a paper application form submitted directly to Nuffic;
- a letter from the candidate's employer endorsing the candidate's study plans and guaranteeing that while the candidate is absent the salary will continue to be paid and his/her job will be held;
- a copy of a valid passport or other official identity document;
- a Statement of Government Authority (if applicable).

Online fellowship application

Online applications have to be submitted through Scholarships Online (SOL). Through SOL candidates can apply for fellowships online and they can check the status of an application. Other parties such as the Dutch institutions, the embassies and consulates will use SOL to add information about an NFP fellowship application. The embassies and consulates will also use SOL to assess NFP fellowship applications.

SOL can be accessed through www.nuffic.nl/nfp. This page also contains more instructions about applying online.

Paper fellowship application

Paper application forms can be downloaded from www.nuffic.nl/nfp. Please note that in the new NFP procedure a complete application (including required documents) must be sent directly to Nuffic by regular mail and not forwarded to the Netherlands embassy or consulate. More instructions can be found on the Nuffic website.

Fellowship application deadline

This is Nuffic's deadline for accepting applications for an NFP fellowship.

The NFP sub-programme short courses has three deadlines: 1 February, 1 May and 1 October. These fellowship application deadlines apply to the courses in part 2 of the 2011-2012 Course List⁷:

Academic application deadline	SOL open for online application	Fellowship application deadlines	Paper application deadlines
See section 7.4	1 November 2010	1 February 2011	1 January 2011
	1 February 2011	1 May 2011	1 April 2011
	1 July 2011	1 October 2011	1 September 2011

Section 7.4 consists of an overview with academic application deadlines and fellowship application deadlines of short courses on the NFP Course List 2011-2012 part 2.

Fellowship applications received after the fellowship application deadline are not considered.

What happens after an application is submitted?

The Dutch institution that offers the course will indicate in Scholarships Online if the candidate has been admitted. Each application will be assessed against the eligibility criteria listed above and, if formulated, against the country-specific criteria.

Paper applications will also be assessed on whether the application was submitted before the fellowship application deadline and whether the course is on the NFP Course List 2011-2012.

7.3 Selection procedure

Both the Dutch institution and the embassy or consulate will assess the fellowship application. The Dutch institutions will focus on academic qualities while the embassies and consulates will look at the relevance of the application for the development of the employing organization or country. If applicable, the application also needs to comply with country-specific criteria. These assessments will lead to a selection.

Finally, Nuffic awards the grant covering the fellowship holders' costs, including the tuition fees, to the Dutch institution. The Dutch institutions make the logistical arrangements and pay each fellowship holder a monthly allowance for the duration of the master's degree programme. They also administer the fellowships and give guidance to the fellowship holders.

The selection procedure has very strict time frames. Selected candidates have to respond to an availability request within a very short period. Therefore, candidates who have submitted an application should carefully examine the time frame of the selection procedure. The time frames can be found on the Nuffic website

7. Please note that the NFP Course List 2011-2012 covers the period January 2011 to August 2012. This section of the brochure covers the procedures for courses with a starting date after approximately mid 2011. These courses follow the new NFP application and selection procedure.

n Integrated Coastal Zone Management

Leading to: Certificate
 Course duration: 2 Weeks
 Next course begins: 23 April 2012
 Academic application deadlines: 23 September 2011
 Fellowship application deadline: 1 October 2011
 Educational requirements: BSc degree or equivalent qualification in a relevant subject from a recognised university.
 Professional requirements: Practical or research work experience.
 Gender category: 4. Subject is not gender-oriented

n International Port Seminar

Leading to:	Certificate
Course duration:	3 Weeks
Next course begins:	23 April 2012
Academic application deadlines:	23 September 2011
Fellowship application deadline:	1 October 2011
Educational requirements:	BSc degree or equivalent qualification in a relevant subject from a recognised university.
Professional requirements:	Practical or research work experience.
Gender category:	4. Subject is not gender-oriented

n On-line course Flood Modelling for Management (E-learning)

Leading to:	Certificate
Course duration:	10 Weeks
Next course begins:	1 March 2012
Academic application deadlines:	23 September 2011
Fellowship application deadline:	1 October 2011
Educational requirements:	BSc level in Civil Engineering, Mathematics, Physics and Agronomy.
Professional requirements:	Professional experience in water sector. Experience in flood modelling or flood management can be added advantage.
Other requirements:	Participants must have access to a PC with Windows (XP/2000/98) with a Pentium 266 MHz processor, 64 MB RAM and a video card.
Gender category:	4. Subject is not gender-oriented

n On-line course Integrated Coastal Zone Management (E-learning)

Leading to:	Certificate
Course duration:	18 Weeks
Next course begins:	1 March 2012
Academic application deadlines:	22 April 2011
Fellowship application deadline:	1 May 2011
Educational requirements:	BSc degree or equivalent qualification in a relevant subject from a recognised university.
Professional requirements:	Preferably some years in the field of coastal zone management or related.
Other requirements:	Participants must have access to a PC with Windows (XP/2000/98) with a Pentium 266 MHz processor, 64 MB RAM and a video card.
Gender category:	4. Subject is not gender-oriented

n On-line course Service Oriented Management of Irrigation Systems (E-learning)

Leading to:	Certificate
Course duration:	18 Weeks
Next course begins:	15 January 2012
Academic application deadlines:	22 April 2011
Fellowship application deadline:	1 May 2011
Educational requirements:	Bachelor's degree in relevant field with some working experience in irrigation.
Professional requirements:	A few years of working experience.
Other requirements:	Knowledge MS-windows, MS-Office. PC with loudspeakers/headphones and good working Internet access; PC microphone and WEB camera are optional.

n Applications of Earth Observation and GIS in Integrated Water Resources Management

Takes (partly) place in:	Kenya, Ethiopia
Leading to:	Certificate
Course duration:	16 Weeks
Next course begins:	16 January 2012
Academic application deadlines:	22 April 2011
Fellowship application deadline:	1 May 2011
Educational requirements:	BSc in a relevant subject.
Professional requirements:	Preferably 2 years of professional experience.
Other requirements:	Basic knowledge of Geographic Information Systems and Earth Observation and computer skills.
Gender category:	4. Subject is not gender-oriented

n Assessment of the Effect of Climate Change on Agro-ecological Systems Using Optical and SAR Remote Sensing and GIS

Leading to:	Certificate
Course duration:	3 Weeks
Next course begins:	4 June 2012
Academic application deadlines:	23 September 2011
Fellowship application deadline:	1 October 2011
Educational requirements:	BSc in Earth Sciences, Geography, Environmental Sciences, Natural Resources Management, or other related discipline.
Professional requirements:	Knowledge of Remote Sensing and GIS and related application area.
Gender category:	4. Subject is not gender-oriented

n Distance Course in Environmental Impact Assessment and Strategic Environmental Assessment using spatial decision support tools (E-learning)

Leading to:	Certificate
Course duration:	6 Weeks
Next course begins:	31 October 2011
Academic application deadlines:	22 April 2011
Fellowship application deadline:	1 May 2011
Educational requirements:	BSc level. Basic knowledge in GIS and modelling.
Other requirements:	Internet access (min 2 hrs per day).
Gender category:	4. Subject is not gender-oriented

n Distance Course in Learning IDL for Building Expert Applications in ENVI (E-learning)

Leading to:	Certificate
Course duration:	6 Weeks
Next course begins:	24 October 2011
Academic application deadlines:	22 April 2011
Fellowship application deadline:	1 May 2011
Educational requirements:	BSc level. Basic knowledge in GIS, programming and image processing in ENVI.
Other requirements:	Internet access (min 2 hrs per day).
Gender category:	4. Subject is not gender-oriented

n Distance Course in Multi-Hazard Risk Assessment (E-learning)

Leading to:	Certificate
Course duration:	6 Weeks
Next course begins:	14 May 2012
Academic application deadlines:	23 September 2011
Fellowship application deadline:	1 October 2011

Educational requirements: BSc degree from a recognized university in Earth Sciences, Environmental sciences, engineering, planning, or other relevant discipline.
 Other requirements: Internet access (min 2 hrs per day). Attitude for independent study.
 Gender category: 4. Subject is not gender-oriented

n Distributed Data Access Technologies for Natural Resources Monitoring

Leading to: Certificate
 Course duration: 3 Weeks
 Next course begins: 4 June 2012
 Academic application deadlines: 23 September 2011
 Fellowship application deadline: 1 October 2011
 Educational requirements: Problem structuring, cognitive mapping, spatial data analysis tools and techniques, simulation and modelling, evaluation techniques.
 Professional requirements: Knowledge of GIS and spatial data analysis (tools and techniques).
 Gender category: 4. Subject is not gender-oriented

n Earth Observation and Quantification of Water Cycle Components

Leading to: Certificate
 Course duration: 12 Weeks
 Next course begins: 2 January 2012
 Academic application deadlines: 22 April 2011
 Fellowship application deadline: 1 May 2011
 Educational requirements: Good mathematical basis. Knowledge on physics in highly appreciated. Basic knowledge in hydrological sciences and EO and GIS data processing.
 Gender category: 4. Subject is not gender-oriented

n Postgraduate Course in Geo-information Science & Earth Observation for Applied Earth Sciences, with specialization in Natural Hazards & Disaster Risk Management

Leading to: Diploma
 Course duration: 9 Months
 Next course begins: 12 September 2011
 Academic application deadlines: 24 January 2011
 Fellowship application deadline: 1 February 2011
 Educational requirements: BSc degree from a recognized university in Earth Sciences, environmental sciences, engineering, planning or other relevant disciplines.
 Professional requirements: Work experience is recommend, but not mandatory, i.e. in environmental, planning or mapping organization, NGO's, DRM organizations, universities.
 Other requirements: Good working experience with computers.
 Gender category: 4. Subject is not gender-oriented

n Postgraduate Diploma Course in Geo-information Science & Earth Observation for Water Resources & Environmental Management

Leading to: Diploma
 Course duration: 9 Months
 Next course begins: 12 September 2011
 Academic application deadlines: 24 January 2011
 Fellowship application deadline: 1 February 2011
 Educational requirements: BSc degree from a recognized university, in a discipline relevant to the programme and/or specialization chosen.
 Professional requirements: Several years of work experience is recommended.
 Other requirements: Reasonable working knowledge of mathematics. Basic computer skills are recommended.
 Gender category: 4. Subject is not gender-oriented

n Postgraduate Diploma Course in Geo-information Science & Earth Observation in Natural Resources Management

Leading to: Diploma
 Course duration: 9 Months
 Next course begins: 12 September 2011
 Academic application deadlines: 24 January 2011

Fellowship application deadline: 1 February 2011
 Educational requirements: BSc degree from a recognized university, in a discipline relevant to the programme.
 Professional requirements: Several years of work experience in a relevant field is recommended.
 Other requirements: Reasonable working knowledge of mathematics and good computer skills.
 Gender category: 4. Subject is not gender-oriented

n Principles of Geo-information Science & Earth Observation from a System Perspective

Leading to: Certificate
 Course duration: 9 Weeks
 Next course begins: 22 September 2011
 Academic application deadlines: 24 January 2011
 Fellowship application deadline: 1 February 2011
 Educational requirements: BSc degree or equivalent from a recognized university in a discipline related to the application field.
 Professional requirements: Some work experience in a relevant field is recommended.
 Other requirements: Reasonable working knowledge of mathematics and good computer skills.
 Gender category: 4. Subject is not gender-oriented

n Remote Sensing and GIS for Natural Hazard Assessment

Leading to: Certificate
 Course duration: 9 Weeks
 Next course begins: 2 January 2012
 Academic application deadlines: 22 April 2011
 Fellowship application deadline: 1 May 2011
 Educational requirements: BSc degree from a recognized university in earth sciences, environmental sciences, engineering, planning, or other relevant discipline.
 Professional requirements: Work experience is recommended, but not mandatory, i.e. in environmental, planning or mapping organizations, NGO's, DRM organizations, universities.
 Other requirements: Basic GIS and image processing skills.
 Gender category: 4. Subject is not gender-oriented

n Spatial Change and Spatial Interaction Modelling

Leading to: Certificate
 Course duration: 3 Weeks
 Next course begins: 25 June 2012
 Academic application deadlines: 23 September 2011
 Fellowship application deadline: 1 October 2011
 Educational requirements: Sufficient theoretical background and practical skills in Geographic Information Science.
 Professional requirements: No specific experience required.
 Gender category: 4. Subject is not gender-oriented

n Spatial Modelling of Biological Ecosystem Properties

Leading to: Certificate
 Course duration: 3 Weeks
 Next course begins: 25 June 2012
 Academic application deadlines: 23 September 2011
 Fellowship application deadline: 1 October 2011
 Educational requirements: Problem structuring, spatial data analysis tools and techniques, simulation and modelling.
 Professional requirements: Knowledge of GIS; disciplinary knowledge of problem domain; spatial data analysis (tools and techniques) and basic statistics.
 Gender category: 4. Subject is not gender-oriented

n Strategic Environmental Assessment (SEA) and Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA) applying Systems Analysis and Spatial Decision Support tools

Leading to: Certificate
 Course duration: 3 Weeks
 Next course begins: 25 June 2012
 Academic application deadlines: 23 September 2011
 Fellowship application deadline: 1 October 2011
 Educational requirements: Systems thinking, simulation modelling, GIS, basic statistics.

Professional requirements:	Knowledge of GIS and, disciplinary knowledge of problem domain, several years of professional experience is recommended.

8 Fellowships for master's degree programmes

Fellowship application deadlines 1 February 2011 and 1 May 2011

NFP fellowships can be obtained for a selected number of master's degree programmes. The Dutch higher education institutions offer many international master's degree programmes, covering almost every field of study. Candidates can receive a postgraduate education and earn one of the following Dutch degrees: Master of Arts, Master of Science, or a Professional Master's degree. A Master of Arts or a Master of Science degree is an academic degree, usually awarded by traditional (research-oriented) universities on completion of a postgraduate research-oriented course of one to two years in duration. Professional Master's degrees are awarded by different types of higher education institutions that offer more professionally-oriented programmes. Professional master's degrees are usually of shorter duration than a research-oriented master's degree programme. The duration of the programmes varies between 9 and 24 months.

The list of selected master's degree programmes can be found at the end of this section on page 83.

Please note that this is a provisional list and that information is subject to change. Please regularly check the Nuffic website for the latest information: www.nuffic.nl/nfp.

8.1 Eligibility

A candidate applying for an NFP fellowship for a master's degree programme must:

- be a mid-career professional with at least three years' work experience;
- be a national of, and working and living in one of the developing countries on the NFP country list valid at the time of application (see annex 4);
- be nominated by his or her employer, who pledges to continue paying the candidate's salary and guarantees the candidate will be able to return to the same or an equivalent position at the end of the fellowship period⁸;
- have been unconditionally admitted by a Dutch institution to one of the master's degree programmes on the course list 2011-2012. This means that the applicant must have met all the requirements set by the Dutch institution (see 8.2);
- not already have received an NFP master's degree fellowship;
- not be employed by:
 - multinationals;
 - UN-organizations;
 - World Bank;
 - IMF;
 - a bilateral or multilateral donor organization;
 - a large, national, commercial organization.
- have completed and submitted an NFP master's degree programme application form including all the required documentation before the NFP fellowship application deadline;
- be employed in an area to which the study will make a relevant contribution;
- have a clear-cut, functional relationship with a relevant organization and be in a position to introduce the newly acquired skills and knowledge into that organization;

- be available for the entire period of the programme and be physically and mentally able to take part in the entire programme;
- endorse the objective and the aim of the NFP. The aim of the NFP cannot be reached if the fellowship holder does not return to his or her own country. Nuffic would like to urge fellowship holders to return to their home country upon finishing the course or programme to meet the NFP aim in the most effective way.

8.2 Fellowship application procedure

As stated above, to be eligible for an NFP fellowship, candidates need to be admitted to the master's degree programme for which they would like an NFP fellowship.

Obtaining academic admission to a master's degree programme

Applicants first apply for admission directly to the Dutch institution that offers the master's degree programme of their choice.

The Dutch institution assesses the application and decides whether or not to admit the applicant to the programme. Candidates will receive a letter from the institution informing them if they have been admitted. Nuffic has no part in the academic application process. Admission must be unconditional in terms of the candidate's education and language proficiency. Admission may be granted conditionally, subject to the candidate finding suitable funding for the programme.

Candidates are strongly advised to apply as early as possible for admission to the Dutch institution to allow these institutions enough time to process all the applications for admission in time.

Academic application deadline

This indicates the latest date that the Dutch institution will accept applications from candidates who also wish to apply for an NFP fellowship.

The academic application deadlines for admission to master's degree programmes vary per programme and can change throughout the year. For this reason, candidates are advised to contact the Dutch institution directly for up-to-date information. Occasionally, the Dutch institution's deadline for applying for admission to a programme is later than the NFP deadline for fellowship applications. Nevertheless, to be eligible for an NFP fellowship, candidates need to be admitted to the master's degree programme for which they would like an NFP fellowship. On the master's degree programmes overview (section 8.4), the academic application deadline is listed for each entry.

Applying for an NFP fellowship

Candidates may submit either a digital or a paper application. However, candidates are strongly encouraged to apply online.

8. Partial payment of salary may sometimes be allowed as an exception to the rule. It is up to the Netherlands embassy to decide if an agreement between the employer and the candidate about partial continuation of payment of salary is acceptable. It should be noted, however, that the NFP allowances are not sufficient to support family members, either in the home country or in the Netherlands

Those who have very limited or no access to the internet can submit a paper application. However, submitting an application online has many advantages. Submitting an application online is much quicker and it is usually less expensive. In addition, candidates can check the status of their application in Scholarships Online (SOL).

Please also note that only one version should be submitted: either digital or on paper. Submitting two versions will most certainly cause delays in the selection procedure.

Candidates can only apply for a fellowship for one master's degree programme per fellowship application deadline. Being admitted to more than one programme with the same fellowship application deadline means that candidates will have to choose one course before applying for a fellowship. If a candidate submits more than one application per fellowship deadline for a programme in the same application deadline the last received application will be regarded as valid. If an online and a paper application are submitted, the online application will be regarded as valid. Excess applications will be regarded as not received.

What does an NFP master's degree programme fellowship application consist of?

- either a digital application submitted online or a paper application form submitted directly to Nuffic;
- a letter from the candidate's employer endorsing the candidate's study plans and guaranteeing that while the candidate is absent the salary will continue to be paid and his/her job will be held;
- a copy of a valid passport or other official identity document;
- a Statement of Government Authority (if applicable).

Online fellowship application

Online applications have to be submitted through Scholarships Online (SOL). Through SOL candidates can apply for fellowships online and they can check the status of an application. Other parties such as the Dutch institutions, the embassies and consulates will use SOL to add information about an NFP fellowship application. The embassies and consulates will also use SOL to assess NFP fellowship applications.

SOL can be accessed through www.nuffic.nl/nfp. This page also contains more instructions about applying online.

Paper fellowship application

Paper application forms can be downloaded from www.nuffic.nl/nfp. Please note that in the new NFP procedure a complete application (including required documents) must be sent directly to Nuffic by regular mail and not forwarded to the Netherlands embassy or consulate. More instructions can be found on the Nuffic website.

Fellowship application deadline

This is Nuffic's deadline for accepting applications for an NFP fellowship.

The NFP sub-programme master's degree programmes has two deadlines: 1 February and 1 May.

These two fellowship application deadlines apply to the courses on part 2 of the 2011-2012 Course List⁹:

Academic application deadline	SOL open for online application	Fellowship application deadline	Paper application deadlines
See section 8.4	1 November 2010	1 February 2011	1 January 2011
	1 February 2011	1 May 2011	1 April 2011

Section 8.4 consists of an overview with academic application deadlines and fellowship application deadlines of the master's degree programmes on the NFP Course List 2011-2012 part 2.

Fellowship applications received after the fellowship application deadline are not considered.

What happens after an application is submitted?

The Dutch institution that offers the programme will also indicate in Scholarships Online if the candidate has been admitted. Each application will be assessed against the eligibility criteria listed above and, if formulated, against the country-specific criteria.

Paper applications will also be assessed on whether the application was submitted before the fellowship application deadline and whether the programme is on the NFP Course List 2011-2012.

8.3 Selection procedure

Both the Dutch institution and the embassy or consulate will assess the fellowship application. The Dutch institutions will focus on academic qualities while the embassies and consulates will look at the relevance of the application for the development of the employing organization or country. If applicable, the application also needs to comply with country-specific criteria. These assessments will lead to a selection.

Finally, Nuffic awards the grant covering the fellowship holders' costs, including the tuition fees, to the Dutch institution. The Dutch institutions make the logistical arrangements and pay each fellowship holder a monthly allowance for the duration of the master's degree programme. They also administer the fellowships and give guidance to the fellowship holders.

In kader:

The selection procedure has very strict time frames. Selected candidates have to respond to an availability request within a very short period. Therefore, candidates who have submitted an application should carefully examine the time frame of the selection procedure. The time frames can be found on the Nuffic website.

9. Please note that the NFP Course List 2011-2012 covers the period January 2011 to august 2012. This section of the brochure covers the procedures for programmes with a starting date after approximately mid 2011. These programmes follow the renewed NFP application and selection procedure.

* The Embassy of the Kingdom of the Netherlands in Abidjan is closed . Originally the Netherlands Embassy in Accra would handle the NFP fellowship applications originating from Ivory Coast. Unfortunately this embassy is not in the position to verify documents from applicants from Ivory Coast. For the time being it is therefore not possible for people from Ivory Coast to apply for the NFP.

 The fellowship desk of the Embassy of the Kingdom of the Netherlands in Kampala, Uganda will be closed from 16 December 2010 until 10 January 2011 and 7 March to 29 August 2011. In this period the fellowship desk will only deal with selected applicants who were awarded a fellowship.

Please note that China is no longer part of the NFP Country List.

For some countries applications should be submitted at the Netherlands embassy in a different country:

Armenia	via Georgia
Cambodia	via Thailand
Cape Verde	via Senegal
El Salvador	via Costa Rica
Guinea-Bissau	via Senegal
Honduras	via Costa Rica
Moldova	via Ukraine
Namibia	via South Africa
